Casal Garcia Vinho Verde

Swimsuit season is here but that doesn't mean you have to miss out on the flavor and fun of nice wine. This summer, spice up your meals and add a bit of indulgence without the guilt, with the refreshing, semi-sparkly Vinho Verde wines from Casal Garcia. Casal Garcia's unique low-calorie vinho verde wines from Portugal offer a refreshing, guilt-free treat for those hot summer days.

Casal Garcia Vinho Verde is only 76 calories per glass, compared to other white wines that can be more than 100 calories per glass. Vinho Verde is a fresh and light wine from northern Portugal that is rapidly gaining popularity among U.S. wine consumers.

Casal Garcia White is widely considered the most sold Vinho Verde around the world. Made with the Trajadura, Loureiro, Arinto and Azal varieties, it's a fresh and crisp, just off-dry white with notes of citrus and light fruity nose and palate.

Casal Garcia Rosé is the Rosé version of the Casal Garcia white, made with the Portuguese indigenous red grape varieties, Vinhão, Azal Tinto and Borraçal, from the Vinhos Verdes region. With notes of fruity raspberry and strawberry on the nose and a clear pomegranate pink color, the wine is fresh, well-balanced, finely structured with pleasant acidity and soft finish, with hints of red berries.

About Vinho Verde: Vinho Verde directly translated means "green wine," but its name refers to the age of the wine rather than its color. Its name concerns the fact that a Vinho Verde is consumed when the wine is young, usually within one year of pressing. Vinhos Verdes are typically a white wine, with a lemon or straw color, but can also be a red or rosé. With a low alcohol content of 9% to 11% and natural acidity, these wines are typically light and fresh and feature fruity and floral aromas. Vinhos Verdes also have a slight carbonation that's enough to tickle your throat but not enough to be considered a sparkling wine.
